

Last Minute Speakers:

Any speaker appointed at the last minute must verbally disclose at the beginning of their presentation. This is the only instance where a verbal disclosure is permissible. The course director is responsible for verifying the speaker does not have any conflicts of interest and the speaker verbally discloses to the audience. Documentation of the verbal disclosure must be reported by the course director to the Office of CME immediately following the educational activity.